Ministry Philosophy

I believe that ministry is people driven. As a leader, it is our responsibility to create a God-centered ministry environment so that our people can work effectively and efficiently to thrive at what they do best.

It is my focus to work alongside church members to help them fully use their spiritual gifts to serve one another, the universal church, and the lost.

Story

I was born and raised in Houston, Texas on April 24th, 1987. My parents came to the United States in the mid-1970's as refugees from Cambodia and I am thankful for the sacrifices they made to give my older brother and me the opportunities we have had.

I grew up in a Christian household but did not make a personal decision to come to Christ until I went to a summer camp at the age of eighteen in 2005. It was there that I came to fully understand the grace of God in my life and I accepted Christ as my personal Lord and Savior. This became the turning point where I began serving God in my local church.

I am currently engaged to an amazing woman named Brittany Tran and we are looking to get married in the summer of 2018. She graduated from Houston Baptist University and is currently in her last year of dental school.

I love music, specifically worship music and since I became a Christian, there has not been a month where worship has not played a large part in my life. I also enjoy playing football and volleyball.

Calling

After graduating from college, I went to work in sales. While I did enjoy the company that I worked for, I found true joy when doing projects for the church. My mentor at work said that while he did not know where I would be in five years, he knew that my work in the church was going to be something consistent in my life. He struck a cord in my heart and I began to pray for what God wanted me to do next. I came to the decision to leave my job and started classes at seminary where I began training for vocational ministry.
